

VOCABULARY

To feel pain in a part of your body, or to injure someone or cause them pain:

The process of finding information, a place, or an object, especially for the first time, or the thing that is found:

The particular physical form or appearance of something:

To have something, or to want something very much:

Having no fear:

Used to show that something is surprising, unusual, unexpected, or extreme:

An ability to do an activity or job well, especially because you have practised it:

Without being controlled or limited:

To defeat or succeed in controlling or dealing with something:

To suddenly go down onto the ground or towards the ground without intending to or by accident:

To stay away from someone or something: